

The mechanism of viral replication

Alt-text Figure 2

Viral replication. The virus attaches to a human cell by binding to the cell membrane. Then the virus its RNA and replicates its genetic code. The new viral particles assemble into the cell. The new virus is exported from the host cell during the maturation process.