

What is One Health?

Alt-text Figure 1 - Taking One Health from theory to practice, as highlighted by the 4 Cs

Illustrative image of One Health interdisciplinarity. There are three circles connected by gears labelled as “collaboration”, “communication”, “coordination” and “capacity building”, respectively. The top left circle is labelled: “sectors and disciplines”, and inside the labels: “environment”, “human” and “animal”, with representative illustrations of each label. On the top right the circle identified as “society” contains labels and representative illustrations of “rural, urban, mobile communities”, “local and national - regional and global”, and “inclusivity, equity and access”. The “One Health” central circle contains the labels and respective illustrations for “healthy ecosystems”, “healthy animals” and “healthy humans”
